Men 18-26 To Register at End of Service

Men between the ages of 18 and 26, separated from the Armed Forces and not previously registered, are required by law to register at a Selective Service local board within 30 days of the date of their separation. This also applies to those separated from the Coast Guard, the Coast and Geodetic Survey and the Public Health Service.

Brigadier General George M. Carter, Maine Director of Selective Service, made that statement Monday in commenting on report he said he had received from one of Maine's local boards to the effect that they knew of instances in which the separated men were not complying with the law.

General Carter quoted Selective Service Regulations as follows: "Every man who (a) has been separated from active service in the armed forces, the Coast Guard, the Coast and Geodetic Survey, or the Public Health Service, (b) has not been required to be registered except for the fact that he was in such active service on the day or days fixed for his registration by Presidential proclamation, shall present himself for and submit to registration before a local board within the period of 30 days following the date on which he was so separated."

Failure to comply with this regulation, General Carter said, is a violation of the law and makes the subject liable to heavy penalty. The State Director made it plain that it is not necessary for the man to return to his home. He may register at the local board most convenient to him, but he should give his home address when he registers.

SHORTAGE OF PENNIES AND DIMES IN NEW ENGLAND

The New England family piggy bank may provide the solution to one of the worst penny shortages in local history.

The Federal Reserve Bank of Boston today made a direct public appeal to all New Englanders to turn in pennies to their local banks in an effort to head off a shortage which already has resulted in partial rationing.

The Boston, which supplies the needs of banking institutions throughout New England, is literally scraping the bottom of the penny barrel. It needs dimes too and urges New Englanders to turn in their dime banks as well as their penny accumulations.

Coins should not be sent to the Federal Reserve Bank but should be turned in at local banking institutions, either for deposit or for exchange.

The couple will reside in Bethel where Mr. Blowers is employed by Ernest Blake.

PAYNE ASKS CONTRIBUTIONS TO RED CROSS DISASTER FUND

Governor Frederick Payne asked Maine people Tuesday to contribute to the Red Cross "Special Disaster Fund" for victims of the midwestern floods.

He said, "The American Red Cross is already helping 22,500 flood victims and feeding 42,000 daily. I am certain the people of Maine will recall the Red Cross and we received during the disastrous fires of 1947 and more recently the severe coastal storms of last November that saved lives with our fishermen, and will want to contribute to this special fund."

Local Red Cross chapters are accepting contributions through the regular solicitors, Kimball Ames, chairman.

PLAYERS MAKING PLANS FOR COMING SEASON

Plans for the Bethel Players' first public activity during the coming season have reached the committee stage. An "Old Fashioned Evening" has been proposed to signal the beginning of the Players' several public performances, will include a full length one-act melodrama from a past era, to be followed by a square dance complete with one of the very competent callers in the vicinity, the price of admission to the membership in the Players group, a quartet and all with the Players, their activities, and to provide entertainment and dancing for the entire evening.

Joe Roderick, chief director of the Players and Mrs. Murray Thurston are to pick and stage the early evening's entertainment, the melodrama. They will be supported by a staff and cast of their selection. Mrs. Francis Noyes has general supervision of the remainder of the activities, which include the square dance, and will be assisted by a committee of her own election.

Tentative dates under discussion for this affair include September 21, September 28 or the early weeks of October. In addition to the plans for the "Old Fashioned Evening" the group's play-making committee is scheduled to begin its selection of plays to be performed during the coming season. Among others a proposal has been received from a commercial directing firm that it provide a director and publicity for a musical comedy to be staged with the Players' scenery, costumes and drawing from its membership for the cast.

HERBERT HARRY MORTON

Herbert H. Morton, retired state patrolman and former lumberman, passed away at his home in North Newry early last Thursday morning after a long illness.

He was born in Andover, July 7, 1868, the son of Charles and Martha Learned Morton and was educated in the Andover schools.

He was a member of Cabot Lodge, K. of P., at Andover. When he was a young man he supervised his own logging operations around Andover. Although he became a state patrolman after moving to North Newry, he never tired of discussing the lumbering business with his friends. He retired in 1946.

Mr. Morton, better known as "Herb," was a splendid example of tolerance, understanding and loyalty. Never critical of anyone, he could always point out the good qualities in his fellow men. His love of children was no greater than their love for him as they rushed to greet "Barpa" when he passed.

Many, many of his old friends and neighbors remained loyal to him in his illness, visiting him often bringing some small token to express their respect and friendship for him.

By his first marriage to the former George Slager, now deceased, he leaves a son, Guy, of South Portland. A daughter, Edith, died several years ago. He married Mrs. Daisy Brooks Searle of Andover, December 21, 1906. By that marriage, he leaves two sons, Herbert Jr. and Albert of Newry, three daughters, Mrs. Vaughn Vail of Andover, Mrs. Doris Brown of Bethel, and Mrs. Ramona Filiault of Westbrook. Other survivors include two step-daughters, Mrs. Viola Laxton of Bethel, and Mrs. Daisy Reed, Rumford, who were very near and dear to him and to whom he gave the love and affection of an own parent. They returned this love and along with his devoted wife and other members of the immediate family, have assisted faithfully in caring for him. Memories of the years spent with him will be cherished dearly. Twenty-one grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services were held Sunday at 2 p. m. at the Greenleaf funeral home with Rev. Charles Pendleton of North Newry officiating. The burial was in the Western Cemetery, Andover, Maine, where services were held at the Cabot Lodge, K. of P., Andover.

There was an open gate at the end of the road, although with a heavy rain and there in a light we cannot see the Father. There is no more happiness and rest. And there is comfort in the thought that a loving God knows best.

CURATIA TWITCHELL PARKER

Curatia Twitchell Parker, one of Bethel's oldest citizens, died Tuesday morning at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Brooks, Bethel, after a long illness. She had made her home there for the past 24 years.

She was born in Gilead, May 7, 1857 and worked for many years as a scaler for the Brown Company, Berlin, N. H. Her wife, the former Angie Farrar, died many years ago.

Survivors include three sons, Arthur, West Milton, N. H., Elmer, Lawrence, Falls, Ray, South Weymouth, Mass., one daughter, Mrs. Florence Brooks, Bethel, 14 grandchildren, 17 great-grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at the Greenleaf funeral home, Rev. Charles Pendleton officiating. Burial was in Grafton Maine.

Mrs. Carl Jordan and daughter sailed from Bethel Saturday for a three month visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Jordan, in Bremen, Germany. Her husband, who has been in Proctor, N. Y., for a three months period before going to Memphis, Tenn. He is a native of Germany and is studying the cotton business in this country.

Eight Traffic Deaths in Me. During June

The eight traffic fatalities during June were two below those of last year in the same month. It brought the total highway deaths for the first half of this year to 61—two above last year's figure. June fatalities were the result of five urban and three rural accidents. The urban accidents killed three pedestrians, all under six years of age and two drivers. The rural accidents killed two pedestrians, — ages three and 85 years, and one driver.

The ages of these victims of pedestrian accidents strongly emphasize the frequent safety warnings to the very young and the very old, cautioning them and those responsible for them to be ever alert when crossing or walking along the streets.

In locating fatalities by counties for the first six months we find Aroostook, of the larger counties, showing the greatest improvement. This county has a reduction from 10 highway deaths last year to only four this year.

In the smaller county group Franklin, which during the past two years has replaced Lincoln as the safest county, continues with a no-accident record.

At the other extreme Androscoggin and Oxford have the largest increase in traffic fatalities. Androscoggin, which for the past several years has had one of the best records among the larger counties, shows a 200% increase. This is mostly due to the four separate pedestrian deaths in Lewiston which city now has had half of all the urban pedestrian deaths in the State.

Oxford County with a 25% increase in traffic deaths is experiencing its worst accident frequency on record. Six of the seven fatalities have been the result of rural accidents.

Personal injury accidents continue to increase from last year with 635 to date as compared to 418 a year ago, up 52% or 28%, while property damage accidents total 1,265 this year against 1,284 for 1950, up 2%. In June of 1951, the Department of Transportation, Maine State Police.

THIS IS NATIONAL FARM SAFETY WEEK

This is National Farm Safety Week, July 22 to 28. Maudie R. Warner, Bethel Savings Bank, official sponsor, is chairman of Maine observance of the week. The theme is "adopt safe practices." Particularly dangerous are stairs, steps, ladders, machinery, and vehicles, as well as animals. Play it safe this week and throughout the year. requests Warner. Make Main farms and homes safe places to live 52 weeks in the year.

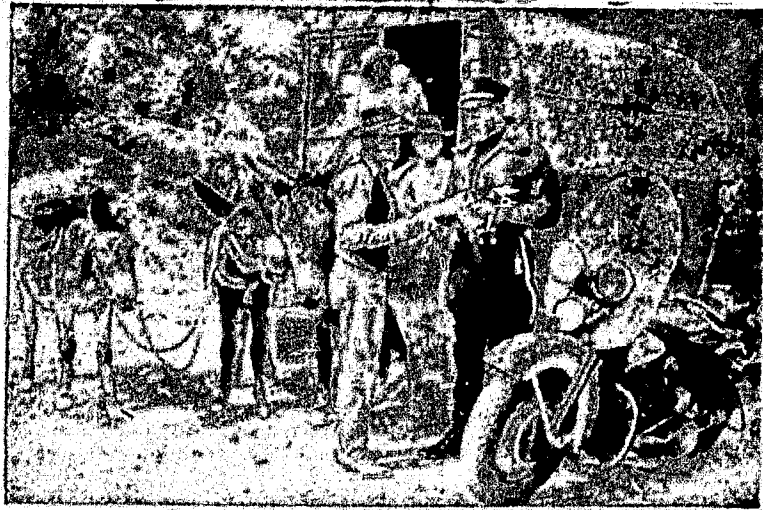

DUST FOR CORN BORERS NOW

Tiny corn borer eggs have been found on early-maturing corn in and around Oxford County. Market gardeners and home gardeners should dust their corn as soon as it starts to tassle.

Three or five per cent DDT can be used at the rate of 40 to 45 pounds per acre if the fodder will not be fed to livestock. Use the heavier rate if a 20% dust is applied. Two pounds of 50% wettable DDT powder is suggested if a spray is used.

Ryanex dust at the rate of 40 lbs. per acre or Ryanacil spray at the rate of 6 lbs. per 100 gallons of water is recommended if the fodder is fed to livestock. Make three applications five days apart with all materials.

It is too soon to apply controls to canning corn.

TRAFFIC PROBLEM . . . Officer Jack Fuller gives copy of state traffic laws to John Moore, retired Tennessee farmer touring country in burro-drawn covered wagon, at Pacific Palisades, Calif.

When buying food, advises Maine Extension Foods Specialist Kathryn Briwa, keep in mind quality, price, supply, food value, the use intended, the likes and dislikes of your family, and the amount of time available for meal preparation.

The old "equality" fallacy that a child who is above average in one trait will necessarily be below average in others is not true, according to tests reported by Childcraft experts. In reality, the child whose intellectual development is superior has been proved to be generally superior in health, size, and ability to get along with people.

Three-Quarter Century Club To Meet at Waterville Aug. 3

Plans are shaping up fast for the annual meeting of the Maine Three-Quarter Century Club on Colby's Mayflower Hill campus, Wednesday, August 22, according to Guy P. Butler, executive manager of the Maine Publicity Bureau, which sponsors the organization.

Enthusiastic participation of the Waterville Lions Club, which will be host club for the event, was pledged at a meeting last week of directors of that organization and the officials of the Publicity Bureau. Other Lions Clubs throughout the State will assist in transportation in accordance with the vote of the recent Lions District Convention.

First step in promoting the annual one-day outing, which last year attracted more than 1,000 of Maine's oldsters to the meeting at Brewer, is the enrollment of all permanent or seasonal residents of Maine who are 75 or more years of age. Some 1,500 names currently are on the Publicity Bureau rolls and have received membership cards in the Maine Three-Quarter Century Club, only State-wide organization of its kind in the Nation. There are no dues or fees of any kind in connection with membership in this club, which is sponsored by the Publicity Bureau both to honor Maine's elderly citizens as well as to point up the fact nationally the "people live longer in Maine." Periodic bulletins of information and good will are sent to members throughout the year.

All persons in Maine over 75 years of age are invited to fill out the following enrollment form and mail to the Maine Publicity Bureau:
